

MELJAC is proud to present its “Pupitre”, an innovative bespoke model

MELJAC, renowned for its luxury electrical fittings, has designed a wonderfully elegant, functional piece: the solid brass “Pupitre” control panel. Unique on the market, the product was initially developed for the Mandarin Oriental, Paris. The dimensions, mechanisms, finishes, engravings and other features can all be adapted to suit individual requirements.

Made in France, the MELJAC “Pupitre” reflects the expertise the brand has become known for. The company’s strength lies in its innovation, making it a pioneer in its sector.

Beauty forged by creativity

Similar to its “Z” control panel, the MELJAC “Pupitre” was designed as a bespoke product in response to a request from the Mandarin Oriental.

The luxury Parisian hotel chose MELJAC for its ability to create a unique piece developed specially for its Penthouse, the “Parisian Apartment”. The “Pupitre”, fixed to a rotating base in bedside tables, is the result of a three-month R&D project. It features between 8 and 12 square Damier buttons for lighting controls, blinds, etc., some with LED back-lighting and engravings. Depending on the format, a “Pupitre” can contain a combination of switches, sockets, USB and data ports, dimmers and other mechanisms. It is fully customisable with 30 finishes to choose from and the option of adding decorative features such as engravings and LEDs.

The Mandarin Oriental also drew on MELJAC’s unique combination of skilled craftsmanship and advanced technology to fit all of its rooms with MELJAC switches and sockets made of brass with a Medium Bronze finish.

- Customisable: engraved or screen-printed words, symbols, pictograms, etc., with back-lighting in a choice of colours
- Several sizes of Console available
- Different mechanisms may be combined: switches, sockets, USB or data ports, etc.
