

MELJAC creates surface-mounted switches that are ideal for renovation projects

With its surface-mounted models, MELJAC, the leader in luxury electrical fittings, has come up with an elegant solution for the installation of switches, sockets or any other electrical function on walls where standard back boxes cannot be fitted.

The solid brass products offer optimum quality and a stylish aesthetic design, reflecting the brand's expert French craftsmanship.

■ The perfect option for fragile walls

MELJAC's surface-mounted models can be installed on surfaces where it is impossible to fit standard back boxes for wiring and electrical mechanisms, as can often be the case during renovation projects – for example stone walls, thin partition walls or delicate surfaces that need to be protected. All the brand's brass collections can be produced as surface-mounted models in any of the 30 shades in the colour chart.

- Standard depth: 50mm, choice of length and width
- Customisable with LED indicators, engraved or screen-printed words, symbols, pictograms, etc.
- 30 finishes to choose from or any RAL paint colour
- Different mechanisms can be combined: toggles, push buttons, sockets, USB or data ports, etc.
- Screwless models possible
